Things to See and Do

Preston Markets

Preston Markets effortlessly combines the city's long-established and traditional traders with new and contemporary stalls and cafés. The result is a one-stop location for fresh, local, and quality groceries; exciting and modern product lines; and places to eat in or take away.

Market Hall

Preston's Market Hall offers an abundance of fresh and local produce, on top of cafés and independent shops.

Shop

Venture inside the Market Hall and you will find a selection of goods including hair and beauty products, wigs, bags, jewellery, and mobile phone accessories.

After fresh and local produce? Then look no further. The Market Hall is jam-packed with traders selling fresh meat, fish, cheese, bread, vegetables, fruit, and dairy products; all you need in one convenient location.

Eat and drink

Take a relaxing break and tuck into a tasty cake and coffee or enjoy a spot of lunch. The Market Hall has a variety of places to unwind in, where you can enjoy quality food and drink. Whether you're after fine wine and cheese, some real ale, or a full English breakfast, the Market Hall is the place to go.

There are also plenty of take away options, ideal for lunch breaks or to take home with you.

Find what you're looking for at one of the Market Hall's cafés or bars:

Tipsy Chef - Chacha's Indian street food - The Orchard - Cherry Pie Coffee Shop - Redmans - Aunty Dolly's Café. General opening times

Monday to Saturday: 8am - 5pm Sunday: Closed

Box Market

The new Box Market, opposite the Market Hall, offers a fresh shopping experience. Taking inspiration from markets in London, the Box Market features different vendors, trading out of upgraded shipping containers, unlike anywhere else in the northwest.

Shop

The Box Market currently hosts boxes trading in locally brewed ales to takeaway, pet supplies, personalised leathercraft, hair accessories and vintage bric-a-brac.

Make sure to pay them a visit and see what gems you can discover!

Eat and drink

When at the Box Market make sure to pay Jonah's a visit. Sit in or take away, Jonah's serves artisan coffee that combines flavour with the caffeine boost you crave. The box café also serves breakfast, cakes, snacks, and thirst-quenching drinks.

Opening times

For individual trader opening times visit Preston Markets - Preston Box Market Traders.

Preston Outdoor Market

Your favourite outdoor traders can be found under the restored 1875 Market Canopy. You'll find a wide selection of goods from clothes, books, and cards to candles, gifts, plants, flowers, pet supplies, and more.

Opening times

Market Hall opening times 8am – 5pm, Monday to Friday. Independent trader opening times may vary.

Please note opening times are approximate.

Things to See and Do

Parks & Gardens

Preston has an abundance of Green Space in and around the city. Some boasting large green spaces, ornamental lakes, exotic trees, and historical structures perfect for the tranquil stroll.

Ashton Park

With Preston Docks and the Guild Wheel nearby, Ashton Park makes the ideal setting to spend your spare time. With multiple entrances and easy access by foot, bike, car, and public transport, there are plenty of reasons to pay this historical Preston highlight a visit.

Showcasing an attractive open landscape, with a fine colonnade of trees, Ashton Park boasts small woodlands, flower displays, and a peace garden. These assets, and more, are what have given the park its well-deserved Green Flag Award every year since 2011.

Entertain the kids in one of two play areas, enjoy a peaceful stroll, soak up the history and architecture of Ashton House, or join some friends for a kickabout - Ashton Park creates a versatile space for a fantastic day out.

Avenham Park and Miller Parks

Due to their central location and six main entrance points, Avenham and Miller Parks are easily accessible by foot and bike, with car parks and public transport points nearby.

The natural amphitheatre in Avenham Park is the ideal spot for picnics, watching the world go by, and family games. The park's paths circle this large green space and offer serene views from all angles. This includes views of the park's Japanese Rock Garden - a beautiful and exotic trees garden area created in the 1930s. The Japanese Rock Garden features a peaceful pond and areas to sit and reflect.

You will find many picturesque spots in Miller Park, suitable for relaxing and picnics. Stroll along its tree-lined path which runs alongside the river

Ribble and continues through Avenham Park. Climb the park's historical steps which lead up to the Derby Walk - getting its name from the Earl of Derby statue that stands tall, overlooking the path. The Derby Walk also features beautiful flowerbeds, trees, and stunning views over Miller Park, the River Ribble, and beyond.

Miller Park has many fascinating and historical points of interest. These include its listed water fountain, rock features, spiralling gardens, and a large basalt rock from the Giant's Causeway.

Grange Park

Located on the East side of Preston, Grange Park provides a pleasant place for formal and informal sport as well as picturesque walks. The park is Preston's first park to receive a Green Flag Award - originally gaining the award in 2002 and retaining this status every year since.

With the site of an old Victorian manor house to visit, the park is steeped in history and beauty, making it an interesting place to spend your spare time and soak up some local heritage. You'll also find formal gardens to wander through and winding paths to stroll along.

Grange Park can be accessed by our Service Number 8 - Preston City Centre to Moor Nook

Things to See and Do

Haslam Park

Haslam Park sits alongside the Lancaster Canal and still boasts many of its original and unique features from when it was first built. The park's ornate Grade II listed gates at two of its main entrances are just some of the features that make this Edwardian Park stand out from the rest.

Every year since 2006 the park has proudly flown its Green Flag, with the area to the north of the park becoming Haslam Park Nature Reserve. Combine the park's nature reserve with its multiple footpaths and paths joining the Lancaster Canal, and you have a day out of diverse scenery and peaceful walks.

Within the park you can also enjoy a picturesque stroll down the lime tree avenue, pass sometime in the rose and sensory gardens, admire the old drinking fountain, and reflect by the brook or ornamental lake.

Alternatively, if you're after somewhere to expel some energy, the park offers many different games areas, large open green spaces, and a children's play area. You'll also find the park easy to locate by car and public transport, making it the perfect day out for families or those wishing to reflect.

Haslam Park can be accessed by our Service 31 - Preston to Lea & Savick.

Moor Park

The Grade II* listed Moor Park sits on the outskirts of Preston city centre, retaining a Green Flag Award in recognition of its heritage and maintenance.

As the city's oldest and largest parkland, Moor Park offers vast open green spaces and notable beauty spots. With so many paths and so much space, you're free to walk, run, cycle, or even skate in the park's designated skatepark.

Moor Park makes a fool-proof visit for sports fans and families, thanks to its wide variety of sports and recreational facilities and children's play areas.

A unique feature to keep your eyes peeled for is the Jeremiah Horrocks observatory. Built by Preston Council, the observatory opened on the day of the 1927 solar eclipse. Recently renovated, as part of a Heritage Lottery Fund restoration project, the observatory now belongs to the University of Central Lancashire. The building also operates as a weather station and opens for public viewing and talks at special events throughout the year.

Winkley Square Gardens

Just a stone's throw away from Preston's main high-street, Winkley Square Gardens make a peaceful retreat, whatever the weather.

The park is a harmonious blend of modern and Georgian features - a beautiful green space surrounded by period architecture. There are also Victorian additions to the park, including the Sir Robert Peel statue which welcomes you at one of the park's seven entrances.

Enjoy some quiet reflection amongst the trees, take a picnic, or even grab something tasty from one of the many cafés and coffee shops nearby. The serene Green Flag awarded park makes the ideal spot for a catch up with friends or an explore with the little ones. There's even the option to delve further into Preston's Park scene, with Avenham & Miller Parks just a short stroll away.

When visiting Winkley Square Gardens you'll find seating areas and open green spaces for relaxing and watching the world go by. If you visit in the winter or in the evening, you can admire the park lit by ground lights along its many footpaths.

Things to See and Do

History & Heritage

Joseph Garstang Trail

Price: Free - Trail length: 0.1 miles approx. Taking around 10 minutes.

As part of the 'Preston Remembers Tours & Trails', this trail follows the life and struggles of Joseph Garstang.

Joseph was a market gardener, personal trainer, and conscientious objector. With strong principals, Joseph experienced a repeated cycle of imprisonment and release. This trail shows you some key sights in Joseph's history, along with his story from childhood until the end of the war.

A short but sweet trail, the distance is roughly 0.1 miles and takes around 10 minutes to complete. However, this can vary depending how long you give yourself to enjoy the history and sights this trail has to offer. You can even give yourself extra time to explore the Harris Museum.

The Joseph Garstang Trail is a casual and flat walk involving city centre footpaths.

Download your guide from the Visit Preston website.

Preston City Centre Statue Trail

Price: Free - Trail length: 1.5 miles approx. Taking around 40 minutes.

This trail focuses on statues and sculptures within the city centre, all within walking distance from each other. Ending in Avenham and Miller Parks, be sure to also admire the parks' stunning architecture and beautiful fountains dating back to the 1800s.

Suitable for

The Preston City Centre Statue Trail is a casual walk which involves city centre and park footpaths. The route is wheelchair and pushchair friendly, however, it does include some gradual downhill and uphill paths.

Download your guide from the Visit Preston website.

Statues beyond the city centre

There are several impressive sculptures and statues outside the city centre that make a great visit or make up a trail of their own.

Sir Tom Finney "The Splash" - Deepdale Stadium

The Millennium Ribble Link Sculpture Trail the Ribble Link is a waterway opened in 2002 connecting Lancaster Canal to the River Ribble. Averaging 2 hours to complete, the trail is 5.9 miles long.

Things to See and Do

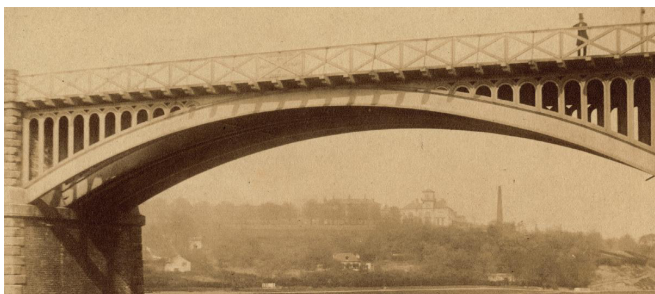

Preston Docks Now and Then

Once Europe's largest inland dock, Preston Docklands make a peaceful stroll and day out.

Discover what Preston Docks have to offer for yourself by walking around and taking in the Marina, along with its variety of backdrops and rich history. With plenty of places to visit and a selection of nearby eateries, the docks make a great day out for visitors of all ages.

As well as a circular walk around the basin, Preston Docks also boasts the following facilities and things to do:

Odeon Cinema - The Guild Wheel - Ribble Steam Railway and Museum - Pubs and eateries - Preston Marina and Cafe - Shops.

Preston's economic progression included the River Ribble and its banks, docks, historic bridges, and associated waterways. All of these were integral to the historical landscape and heritage.

River Ribble

It was thanks to the River Ribble that Preston became a trading port from the mid-14th century. The growth of the trade led to the port's development as an 18th century quay and then to a large inland dock in the 19th century.

The River Ribble was also within easy reach of Preston's town centre, providing a striking backdrop for Avenham and Miller Parks. It was for reasons like this that the Ribble's importance grew for transport and leisure activities including the Penwortham Ferry, pleasure boating, and the Preston Regatta.

It was in the 18th century that Preston was also first linked to the canal network - a factor that had a huge impact on trade. While that eventually declined, the Ribble Link, constructed in 2002, became the nation's first purpose-built canal in more than a century and linked the Lancaster Canal to the Ribble.

Preston Docks

Prior to Preston Docks being constructed, ships would come to the city to unload and shelter in a natural basin and manmade wharves at the confluence of the River Ribble and the Moor brook.

Preston Dock opened in 1892 and, at the time, was the largest single dock in the country. The basin was named after Queen Victoria's first son, Albert Edward the Prince of Wales, due to the Prince laying the dock foundation stone in 1885.

Despite never being a major port, Preston Dock was the first to introduce roll on roll off traffic and ferry transport. This led to the port holding the record for handling the largest amount of container and ferry traffic by the 1960s.

The most important cargoes landing in Preston Dock were cotton and wood pulp. However, due to the smaller nature of the dock, fewer could use it as the size of ships increased. In the 90-year history of the port it only made profit for 17 years, leading to the redevelopment of the site in 1979. and eateries - Preston Marina and Cafe - Shops.
